Licence fees are not charged for the use of Te Papa images for private study and research purposes, however a nominal access fee will apply to cover the administration costs of the request.

Subject to copyright approval, students are permitted to include Te Papa images in the submission copy of their thesis or assessment work. Student work that is to be uploaded online, or to a University thesis archive, will require the student to obtain a licence for non-commercial online use. Any publication of student work will also require a licence to be obtained.

If students wish to avoid licensing fees, we recommend that images be removed from online copies and replaced with a link to the respective Collections Online page for the image.

If your proposed use is not covered in the tables above, please contact Te Papa Picture Library: picturelibrary@tepapa.govt.nz
