

What's Happening is a regular e-alert to keep you up to date with information about our activities throughout New Zealand, and is supplementary to our quarterly e-newsletter.

Leading Teams (South Island)

Wednesday 29th June, 9am-4pm
Marlborough Museum, Brayshaw Heritage Park,
26 Arthur Baker Place, Blenheim
Cost: $10

This is a poutama two | intermediate experience level workshop.

This will cover:

- Know how to get the team working together
- Understand performance and motivation and drivers of team members
- Understand how to encourage ownership and commitment of team members to goals and outcomes
- Four key strategies as a team leader for working with your people
- Have a toolkit of communication and conversation tools which can help the leader to deal with a range of situations
- Analyse the capability of the team and individuals within the team and identify development needs
- Deal with performance issues that may arise

Who will I meet?

- Chris Rowan and Mark Sweeney from Impact Education Group have worked extensively in the area of organisation development and in particular in strengthening teams and the leadership capabilities of managers. They make sure organisations, no matter how small are effective in building strong teams, improving the performance of their staff and developing the individual leadership capabilities managers need to get the best out of those they work with. Mark and Chris are both highly skilled and experienced trainers and facilitators who use active approaches in their workshops, personalising learning to people's individual settings.
- You will also meet other museum personnel in your region – a great networking opportunity

Who is it for?

This is an intermediate level workshop which gives representatives from museums, art galleries, heritage organisations, the arts and cultural sector, iwi organisations, and others in the region to learn useful new skills and share ideas.

How do I sign up?

Please contact Sally August on freephone 0508 678 743.

Christchurch Forum

Adrienne Rewi is writing a stimulating Christchurch blog for NSTP's New Zealand Museums website. 'But for all the sadness and destruction there have been dozens of positive stories. I'll be visiting all of those subjects on this blog in the coming weeks':

<http://www.nzmuseums.co.nz/news/after-shock>

'For all the fatigue, anxiety, distress and discontent you encounter among Christchurch artists, there is an excitement about the future':

<http://www.nzmuseums.co.nz/news/art-alternatives>

Monthly Interview: Eva Huismans

Eva Huismans was awarded ATTTO's 2010 Training Ambassador Award for the museums sector at the Museums Aotearoa MA2011 Conference in April:

<http://www.nzmuseums.co.nz/news/eva-huismans-interview>

Matariki

Have a look through Te Papa's Matariki festival events programme: <http://bit.ly/m8UigV>

ATTTO Workshop in Nelson

workshop
participants

Trainees and National Services Te Paerangi staff photographed at the National Certificate in Museum Practice Museum Collection Maintenance workshop held at Isele House and Broadgreen Historic House, Nelson. An intensive 2-day workshop looking at all aspects of collection management, this 'pioneering' workshop was well received, and might provide a model for future ATTTO training.

Exciting new books from Te Papa Press

Taonga Māori in the British Museum:

This highly illustrated book reveals the most extensive collection of Māori taonga (treasures) held outside of New Zealand — those in the British museum: <http://bit.ly/er1rq7>

Museums and Māori: Heritage Professionals, Indigenous Collections, Current Practice:

This ground-breaking book explores the revolution that's transformed New Zealand museums in recent decades, and is influencing how museums worldwide care for indigenous objects: <http://bit.ly/hDHhH1>

*This is the only metropolitan-wide disaster New Zealand has experienced during the modern age of art galleries, museums and an art scene and there's an enormous opportunity here to learn lessons for the future':

<http://www.nz museums.co.nz/news/art-salvage>

'A Super Haka sent a powerful message of strength and support to the quake-hit community':

<http://www.nz museums.co.nz/news/earthquake-recovery-a-ngai-tahu-perspective>

Sheltering the stories

INNZ Spring Workshops and AGM 3 – 4
September, 2011.

Sheltering the stories – Whakamarumarū te kōrero paki. Interpreting cultural and heritage values in a modern world.

This promises to be a fantastic workshop weekend with a chance to see a variety of the best interpretation and visitor experiences that Timaru and area has to offer.

<http://www.nz museums.co.nz/news/sheltering-the-stories>

Please pass on this notice to your networks – why not post it on your notice board?

* Subscribe to receive the e-alert, email natserv@tepapa.govt.nz

Unsubscribe | Refer a friend

