Monsters and creatures can help explain things we can't see, or strange things that happen. Dragons. Unicorns. Gnomes!

The painting Goblin market is filled with lots of hidden things. Fill in the blank spaces with what you think they might be – and then turn the page for the reveal!

Shadows and silhouettes can play tricks on us and make us see things that aren't really there. Was this what you were expecting?

We all know stories involving creatures and monsters. They come in all shapes and sizes and in all forms of beings: big, small, cute, whakamataku (scary)! Find the monster features in the word search.

The Manaia is a mythological creature in Māori culture. Usually they are depicted as having the head of a bird, the tail of a fish, and the body of a man.

Momorua (hybrid) creatures mix two or more forms together – think of the half-man, half-horse centaur. Fold these pages in half and, without looking, complete each image with your favourite animals or objects.

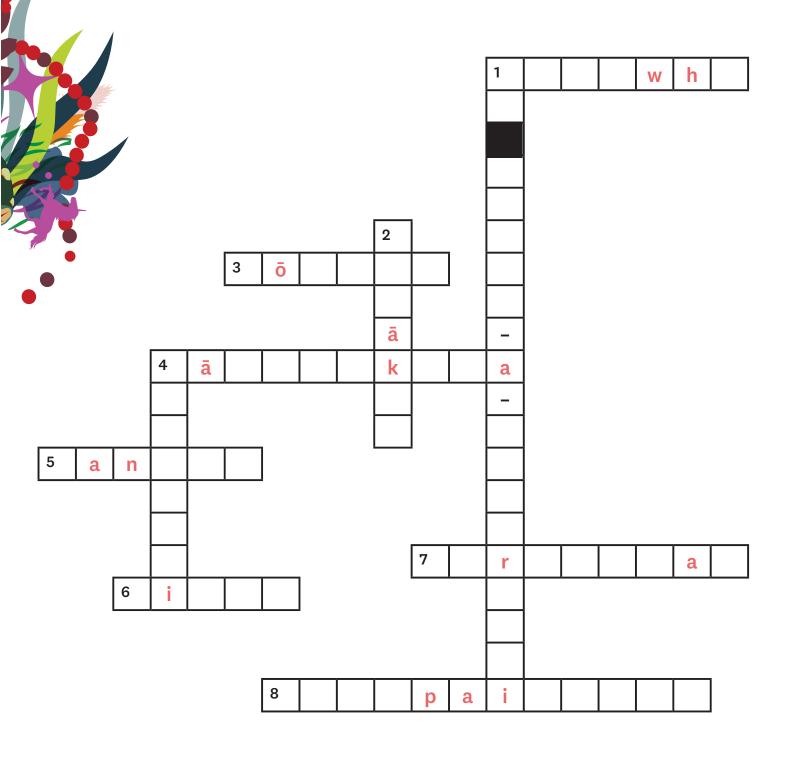

Exquisite corpse (from the French cadavre exquis!): where words or images are mixed together.

The technique was invented by surrealist artists. Each person adds to a drawing based on a set of rules, or by only seeing part of what the last person has drawn.

There are many traditions of tipua (strange beings) from Aotearoa, and cautionary tales about these mythological Māori creatures. Fill in this crossword with kupu (words) from the list on the right and then learn about these tipua.

Rārangi kupu (word list)

Pākehakeha Ponaturi Manaia Tipua Hōkioi

Marakihau Patupaiarehe Pouākai Taniwha Te Wheke-a-Muturangi

Tipua descriptions

Across

- 1. Elusive beings that live in deep pools in rivers, dark caves, or in the sea.
- 3. A name for the legendary large eagle endemic to Aotearoa, also known as Haast's eagle.
- 4. Fair-skinned sea creatures that possessed canoes made of reeds that change magically into sailing vessels.
- 5. Stylised carving figure often depicted as having the head of a bird, the tail of a fish, and the body of a man.
- 6. Goblin, foreigner, demon, object of fear, strange being.
- 7. Semi-human figure with a long tubular tongue and a curled appendage ending in a fish tail.
- 8. Fairy-like beings who could lure people away from safety with the music of their flutes.

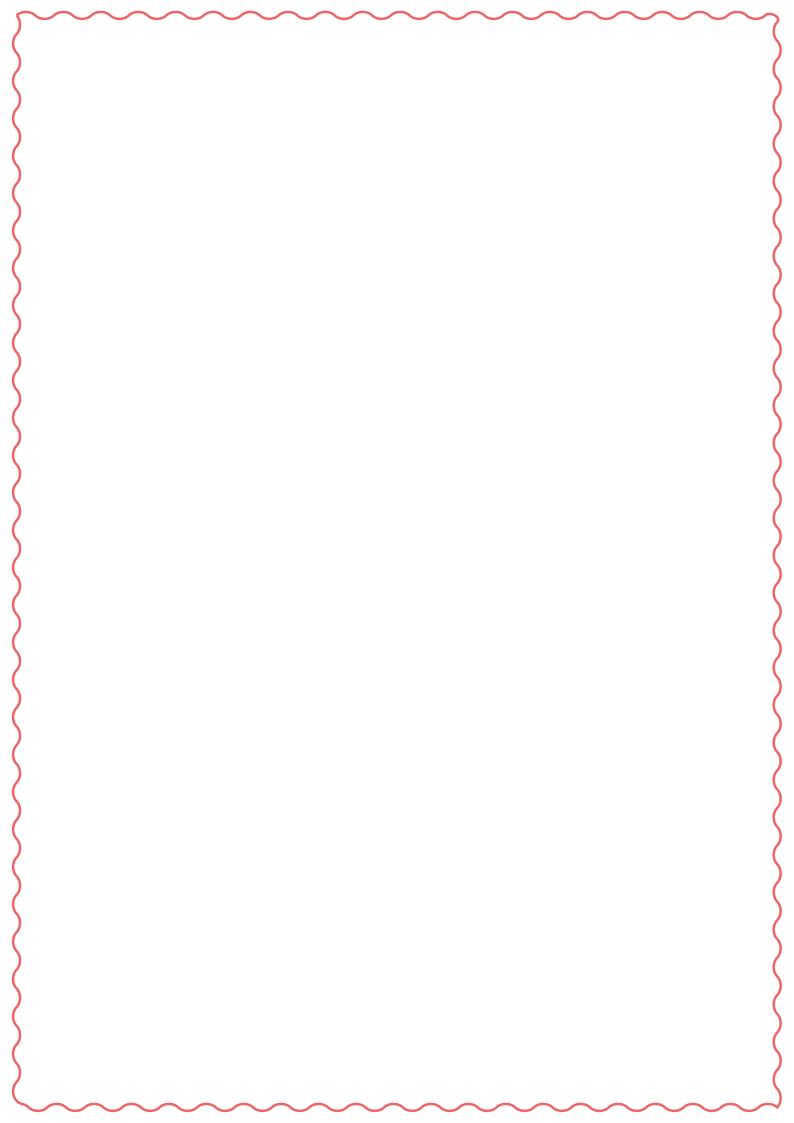

Down

- Monstrous octopus that belonged to Muturangi and was pursued to Aotearoa by Kupe.
- 2. Large endemic eagle with vulture-like bill, thick talons, and a three-metre wingspan.
- 4. Sometimes described as sea fairies, these beings have red hair, white skin, and fingers with long, evil claws.

Create a pūrākau (story) by using the kupu (words) list at the bottom to fill in the blank spaces. Match the colours! Then draw your pūrākau on the opposite page.

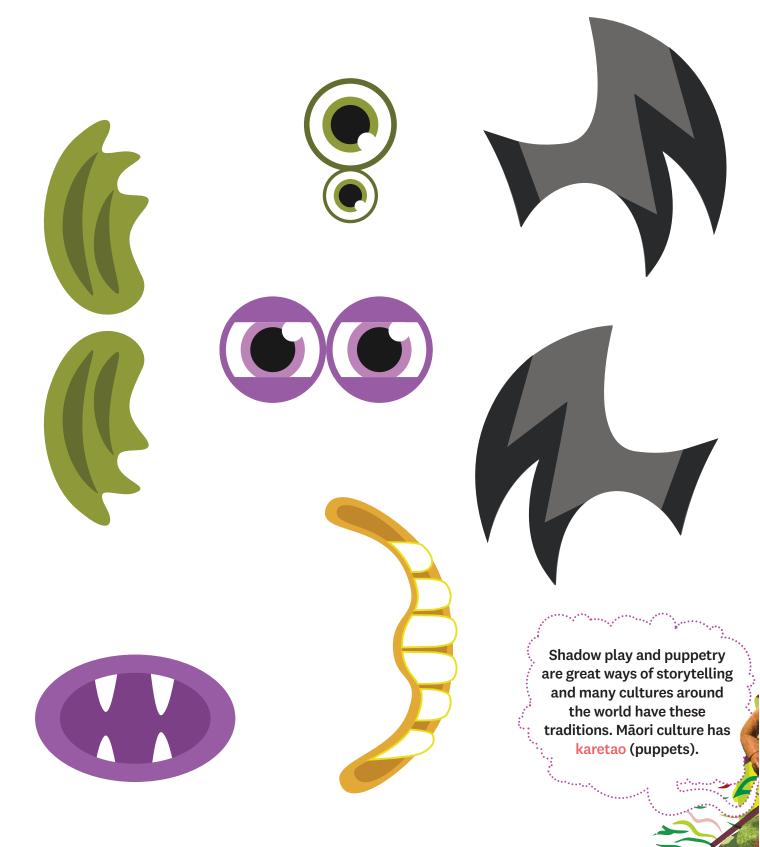

"I know of a strange and curious creature who lives in the __________. It is an odd mix of animals that I've never seen before. I think it's what they call a 'hybrid' creature – part ________ and part _______, and probably a few more. I saw it one ________ day as I walked to the ________ alone. I didn't realise I had just stumbled into its home. At first I thought it was ________, but I tried to wait and see, if the curious creature would be ________ and talk nice to me. It turns out the only friends it has are _______ and _______. They liked to play _______ games in the ______. So decided I should leave them be, as I heard my mother calling that it was time for tea."

Be your own tipua rerekē (curious creature)!

- Step 1. Cut out this kanohi kē (mask)
- Step 2. Decorate your mask (e.g. horns! feathers! more eyes!)
- Step 3. Rarrrr!
